

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to the use of Y11414 gene or its functional homologues for the production of plants tolerant to biotic and abiotic stresses, such as salt-induced stress, dehydration-induced stress, oxidative stress, and osmotic stress and the use of products which comprise said genes sequences, such as expression cassettes and biological vectors useful in the preparation of transgenic plants.